that as more people become registered engineers in the States that they will organize and drop out of AIEE merger.

I am strictly against this merger. I have talked to other engineers in my location - they are not AIEE - and many feel the same.

Russell N. Allen

My feelings are against the merger with IRE because of the Professional status that the societies have tried for years and years to establish. Once an organization starts permitting members without the basic requirements to qualify and maintain Professional status, the other professional organizations will start to not recognize you as a professional man.

If this merger goes through I believe the Professional Status of the Electrical Engineers will be harmed and I believe
